COTTON MARKETS

Liverpool Again Comes Much Better Than Due, But Domestic Sentiment Mixed.

Thursday afternoon, Jan. 8.
With the New Orlaans market closed belay in observance of Jackson day, the New York trade had matters to themselves after laverpool closed, with the usual lot of reports and rumors circulating. The market was a mixed affair, with some disposition to increase offerings on the strong spots, but very little willingness to take the short sade. There were items of news, which if correct, would perhaps stimulate builling. There were items of news, which if correct, would perhaps stimulate building feeling. The chief one was that the Germans had about perfected arrangements through the workings of the lately passed Edge act whereby Germany would buy a million bales of cotish. The report smanated from Washington through a commission concernand contained little that was definite, which naturally created more or loss disposition to await something more tangible. No time for buying this amount was specified, nor were any details stated. It was conceded, however, that the report was very toportant, but the principal thing lacking so far is that of confirmation.

Germany in pre-war times took about 2,500,000 bales of our cotton a wason,
and a large part of it was of low grades,
which makes this rumor of especial im-

some other factors of more definite scharacter.

Liverpool came much better than expected and closed steady at oet gains of $\frac{5}{8}$ to $4$ points, whereas $22$ to $15$ points up was due. Cables did not say just what caused the sudde neversal of form in the foreign center, but the law quotations for sterling on this side a little later perhaps helped explain it for rates were off several points from last night, sight quoted around $1.74$ at the opening. Spots were marked up $1.5$ points, fully middling to $29.39d, with sales $,000 baies, including $7.100 American, and nothing was received. Nothing additional came regarding the feared railroad strike.

The good cables helped give a steady opening Germans getting some credits. March opened at $5.75$ and soon sold up to $36.81. Then came some liquidation and room selling, but the dip did not last and the list worked back up to near the early high. But exchange weakened and there was subsidence of buying after Liverpool closed, which started the trend off a little. Circulation of one January notice, the first and only one so far, perhaps caused a little selling, but it was not regarded as important March dipped to $5.30, but pressure was limited.

Bad weather over most of the belt bindered business in the actual, lots of rain being reported and the actual, lots of rain being reported and the sell prints and the last was not regarded as important bindered business in the actual, lots of rain being reported and the selling of points.

market was easier around 2:20 o clock imited.

Bad weather over most of the belt hindered business in the actual, lots of rain being reported, and it also interfered with picking. The advices telling of good season being put into the ground were read, but apparently had small influence at the moment. Indications were for colder and perhaps snow in som esections. The ginning report is due at the opening tomerrow and this perhaps caused some hesitancy, but wiless it comes a surprise its effect probably will be small.

Futures closed 7 points up to 5 down, tone steady.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, Jan X-The cotto market opened firm at an advance of 7 to 47 points in response to ligher iverpool cables and after some irregplarity as a result of commission house ularity as a result of commission house realizing and scattered Southern selling, sold 27 to 43 points above last night's closing figures on the active positions. Rumors that arrangements had been made for the shipment of a large amount of cotton to Germany on a credit basis seemed largely responsible for the advance, which extended to 36.50 for March and 31.55 for July during the early trading.

Stocks Have Sluggish Opening Strength in Corn Early Reflects Seaboard Demand and Scarcity of Cars.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The policy of the federal reserve board respecting loans for speculative purposes was again a deterrent influence at the sluggish opening of today's stock market. Metal and food shares were the only issues to show a degree of firmness, the usual leaders, especially oils and motors, displaying moderate heaviness. Balls were almost entirely neglected and high-class industrials recorded fractional declines.

Selling of motor shares seemed to emanate from professional sources and further heaviness of oils depressed the list at midday. Studebaker, Pierce-Arrow and General Motors were the center of attack, the latter showing an extreme loss of 8½ points.

The closing was irregular. Sales approximated 850,000 shares.
